LOCAL & AREA NEWS

♦ ELECTRICITY RATES GOING UP AGAIN

The cost of electricity is going up again. TVA says it will raise its wholesale power rates in July by another 3%, boosting the typical residential electricity bill by about $2.80 per month. It will be the 5th consecutive monthly hike in TVA's fuel cost adjustment.

♦ COMMUNITY NEWS YOU CAN USE:

√ The city of Athens and Medix Regional Blood Center will have a blood drive Friday from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the City Hall Court Room. All donors will receive a free Chick-fil-A Sandwich coupon.

√ A ceremony marking the opening of the E.G. Fisher Public Library Sidewalk Arboretum will be held this Friday at 10 a.m. The Arboretum is located on property adjacent to the Library. At 11 a.m., refreshments will be served in the Library's Community Room and a presentation will be available about the vegetation used in the Arboretum and the Wetland Project currently under construction.

√ Lynn Perkinson, wife of Athens Vice Mayor Bo Perkinson, has been named Spouse of the Year by the Tennessee Municipal League. The award is given each year to the spouse of an elected official in recognition of the many sacrifices they give in the name of public service. The award was presented at TML's annual conference in Gatlinburg.

NATIONAL-WORLD NEWS

♦ British energy giant BP has agreed to President Obama's demand to put $20 billion in a special fund to pay damage claims from the Gulf of Mexico oil spill. Meantime, BP says it has begun burning some of the oil siphoned from the well to prevent it from spreading.

♦ Stocks mostly fell Wednesday after home construction and applications for building permits slumped in May following the end of a homebuyer tax credit. The Dow Jones Industrials Average managed to close with a small gain of 4.69 points at 10,409.46.

♦ A British family is outraged after learning that their now-deceased-daughter received a double lung transplant from a long-time smoker. Their 28-year-old daughter died from pneumonia just a few months after the procedure. The family says they were not warned that the donor had been a smoker for 30 years.

♦ Microsoft Corporation co-founder Bill Gates and billionaire investor Warren Buffett are launching a campaign to get other American billionaires to give at least half of their wealth to charity.

♦ A flight attendant was pressed into service after the co-pilot of an American Airlines flight became ill as the plane was preparing to land in Chicago. The pilot asked if any off-duty airline pilots were on board. The flight attendant told the captain she had her private pilot's license and she filled in as first officer during the landing.
