TVA says its monthly fuel cost adjustment will drop by about $2 for the average residential customer in April. TVA says the decrease is partly due to an accounting change, as TVA changes to calendar-month sales in its fuel accounts. Effective April 1st, TVA is also changing its rate structure to promote energy efficiency and reduce peak power demand.

Police say they will try to cool spent nuclear fuel at one of the reactors with water cannons, normally used to quell riots. And U.S. soldiers in Japan are not allowed within 50 miles of the nuclear reactors. Meantime, Japan's government says radiation levels outside the plant's gates are stable.

◆ All executions in Georgia have been stopped after federal agents seized the state's supply of a sedative used in lethal injections due to questions about how the drug was imported into the U.S.

◆ Voters in Miami-Dade County have removed Mayor Carlos Alvarez from office in a special recall vote triggered by anger over a hike in property taxes.

◆ U.S. stock prices sank again on Wednesday as worries over Japan's nuclear crisis escalated. The DJIA dropped 242 points.

Driver's License Get New Look

Our driver's licenses will soon get a new look. The Tennessee Department of Safety and Homeland Security Commissioner Bill Gibbons says the state will begin issuing new and improved driver licenses and identification cards later this month. The new licenses will feature several upgraded design and security features, including a new banner showcasing Tennessee landmarks and icons, a new background design, multiple birthdate placements on the front and back of the card, a different format to distinguish driver licenses from identification-only cards, a digital portrait and signature stored in a permanent database, and machine-readable barcodes for law enforcement purposes. The new cards will be issued at all driver license stations within the next four to six weeks. Your current license is still valid until its expiration date.
