LOCAL & AREA NEWS

◆ RAIN MEANS LOWER POWER BILLS

The wet weather this past Spring made the grass grow taller and our electricity rates grow smaller. TVA says its wholesale rate for electricity in July will be about 10% lower than last July. TVA says the unusually wet weather in May resulted in a hefty increase in hydroelectric power generation.

◆ COMMUNITY NEWS YOU CAN USE:

- ✓ The "Sounds of Summer" free concert series continues in Market Park in Downtown Athens this Saturday at 7 p.m. It will be "Hard Rock Night" featuring Sky Town Riot. Bring sure to bring a lawn chair.
- ✓ As part of the Teen Summer Reading Program "Beneath the Surface," the Etowah Carnegie Library will host young adult author Poppy Jackson next Tuesday, July 9th, at 6:30 p.m. Drew Lorenzo from New Orleans writes under the pen name Poppy Jackson. She wrote her first book when she was 13 years old. She is a senior at Chattanooga High School Center of Creative Arts and hopes the earnings she makes from her books will pay for a car.
- ✓ Reminder: The Decatur Fireworks Show has been rescheduled for this Sunday at 9:30 p.m.

NATIONAL & WORLD NEWS

- ◆ The chief justice of Egypt's Supreme Constitutional Court was sworn in Thursday as the nation's interim president, taking over hours after the military ousted Islamist President Mohammed Morsi.
- ◆ Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Sergei Ryabkov says Edward Snowden should find another country to seek refuge in, signaling Moscow's growing impatience over the former U.S. spy agency contractor's stay at a Moscow airport. Ryabkov also said Russia had not received a request for political asylum from Snowden.
- ◆ Eight months after Superstorm Sandy shuttered the national symbol of freedom, The Statue of Liberty reopened on the Fourth of July, as Americans around the country celebrated with fireworks and parades. Hundreds lined up Thursday to be among the first to board boats destined for Lady Liberty.
- ◆ A full investigation into the disappearance of Madeleine McCann has been launched by British police who want to trace 38 "persons of interest" in the case. Detectives believe it's possible that Madeleine is still alive. She vanished from a Portuguese holiday resort six years ago.
- ◆ Paula Deen announced that she has cut business ties with Barry Weiner, her agent from New York, who helped make her a Food Network star. Deen gave no reason for her parting with Weiner.
