LOCAL & AREA NEWS

◆ PROCESS TO REMOVE BEBB CONTINUES

A special House judicial oversight committee says there is enough evidence against 10th Judicial District Attorney Steve Bebb to continue the process of removing him from office. The committee will recommend that House Speaker Beth Harwell appoint another panel to come up with specific charges warranting removal when the Legislature convenes in January. The special committee's recommendations follow a report by the state attorney general that Bebb exhibited poor judgment and was a bad record-keeper. A year ago, the Chattanooga Times Free Press published a series detailing allegations that Bebb accepted taxpayer reimbursement for driving a state-owned car. The series also spelled out financial misconduct in the 10th District Drug Task Force.

NATIONAL & INTERNATIONAL NEWS

◆ So far, federal investigators have found no initial evidence that a UPS cargo jet suffered engine failure or was burning before it clipped trees at the end of the Birmingham, Alabama airport runway and slammed into a hillside, killing the two pilots.

◆ Egypt has moved from a nation in crisis to a nation in real danger of slipping into a prolonged bout of violence or even civil war. Almost 4,000 people have now been killed since their former president was removed from office by the military.

◆ Officials in Newtown, Conn., say requests for gun permits are set to double this year in the wake of the Dec. 14, 2012, massacre at Sandy Hook Elementary School.

◆ There's a new front-runner in the race to succeed New York City Mayor Michael Bloomberg. Bill de Blasio is now at the top of the democrat primary polls after previous front-runner Anthony Weiner was caught sexting photos of his private parts on the internet.
