Etowah's History in Pictures

Etowah author Durant Tullock will be signing his new book Images of America-Etowah, TN this Saturday, Aug. 31st, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the L&N Depot. Tullock's book contains over 200 pictures and captions that begin with the creation of the first planned community of the L&N Railroad. In 1902, the Louisville and Nashville Railroad was looking for a place halfway between Cincinnati and Atlanta to build a rail center. The decision was to locate near the foot of Starr Mountain. In 1906, the town of Etowah emerged, built around the railroad industry. The book shows and tells of the changes that have taken place since Etowah began. The photo below shows an early view of Tennessee Avenue.

National & International News

- ◆ Army Major Nidal Hasan was sentenced to death by a military jury on Wednesday for the 2009 shooting rampage at Fort Hood, Texas, giving the Army psychiatrist what he believed would be a path to martyrdom, in the attack on unarmed fellow soldiers.
- ◆ Americans of all backgrounds and colors massed on the National Mall on Wednesday to hear President Obama and civil rights pioneers commemorate Dr. Martin Luther King's "I Have a Dream" speech on the same spot where he gave unforgettable voice to the struggle for racial equality 50 years earlier.
- ◆ The California National Guard has launched a drone in an effort to get an early lead on spotting wildfires and to monitor for unexpected developments. A large Rim Fire has already burned 293 square miles of the Sierra Nevada. Investigators are trying to determine the cause of the fire which started on August 17.
- ◆ The threat of U.S. military action in Syria has law enforcement officials around the country keeping a close eye amid the possibility it could spur retaliatory domestic attacks. The New York Police Department is planning to ramp up its security around the city ahead of the Jewish holidays, including Rosh Hashana and the upcoming anniversary of the Sept 11th terrorist attacks.

◆ TWC STUDENT DOES CANCER RESEARCH

Alexa Marlow, a chemistry major at Tennessee Wesleyan College, spent her summer participating in research on new medicines for cancer patients at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville. Ms. Marlow says she hopes to one day help solve the cancer puzzle and provide easier treatments for cancer patients. She says her interest in cancer medication was inspired by her grandmother's battle with cancer.
