◆ SHERIFF GUY WARNS OF EXTORTION SCAM

McMinn County Sheriff Joe Guy says scammers are impersonating him, his officers, and even local judges in an effort to extort money from citizens. According to Sheriff Guy, the scammers call citizens and claim to be "Sheriff Joe Guy." The caller says that the citizen either missed a court date or has an upcoming court date involving a hefty fine, and offers to "take care of it over the phone." The scammer instructs the victim to obtain a pre-paid credit card, put money on the card in the amount of the "fine," and then call the phony "Sheriff's Office" number back, with the card number. When the scammer gets the card number, they grab the victim's money. More than 100 people have already received these calls, and several have been victimized for amounts ranging from $500 to $1000. Sheriff Guy says his office does not collect fines, does not collect fines over the phone, and does not make phone calls threatening to arrest anyone for not paying a fine. He says if you receive such a call, you should call 911 immediately and report the number where the call is coming from. Sheriff Guy also asks local retail stores who sell prepaid credit cards to ask customers if they are buying the card to pay a fine, and if so to inform the customer of the scam.

NATIONAL & WORLD NEWS

- ◆ The flight recorders or "black boxes" from the Malaysian airliner that was downed over eastern Ukraine, have been given to Malaysian aviation experts. The bodies of the victims, who were mostly Dutch, are being sent to Amsterdam for forensic exams.
- ◆ A college friend of Boston Marathon bombing suspect Dzhokhar Tsarnaev, has been convicted of impeding the investigation into the attack. The friend removed a back pack from their dormitory which contained evidence of Tsarnaev's involvement in the crime.
- ◆ Ryan Pitts of Nashua, New Hampshire, has been presented the Medal of Honor by President Obama for combat valor, for continuing to fight after being wounded in one of Afghanistan's bloodiest battles. Pitt insists that the medal belongs to all of his comrades who fought and died that day.
- ◆ U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry has begun a new diplomatic push to secure a cease-fire between Israel and Hamas, but senior U.S. officials acknowledged this would be difficult. More than 500 people have died in the Gaza Strip fighting, the vast majority of them Palestinians, as Israel has pursued an air and ground offensive to stop rocket attacks on its territory from the Hamas-dominated Gaza Strip.
- ◆ President Obama says that the proposal to grant the District of Columbia statehood is a "great idea."

Joe's Italian Cuisine Re-opening Soon

Joe's Italian Cuisine, which was destroyed by a fire on June 6th, will be re-opening on Friday, August 1st, at a new location. Owner Joe Milanzi tells The Morning Fax that his new location will be the former Zesto on Ingleside Avenue across from Mayfield's. Joe says he will have the same menu, with more specials. He says the new location will seat more people, up to 52. He also says he will be able to cater between 150 and 200 people. He plans to have live music at the restaurant on Friday evenings.

◆ COMMUNITY NEWS YOU CAN USE:

- ✓ The Athens City Schools announce that all city school students will be able to have free breakfast and lunch starting with the upcoming school year. The meals are provided through the Community Eligibility Program by the USDA.
- ✓ Mark your calendars for the 6th Annual "Share Your Christmas" Dance & Silent Auction to benefit the Tri-County Center. This year's event will be held Friday night, December 12th, at Springbrook Golf & Country Club. The Larry Whitt Band will be back by popular demand. For more information, call 745-8902.

Obituaries

• Jewell Faye Spurling Thurman, age 71, of Athens died Sunday at her daughter's home in Niota. Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Athens Free Saints True Holiness Church, with visitation from 4 to 7 p.m. Tuesday at the church. Ziegler Funeral Home is in charge of the arrangements.

Monday's Market Report: U.S. stocks closed lower on Monday as concern remains over geopolitical tensions. The Dow Jones Industrial Average was down 48.45 at 17,051.73. The Standard & Poor's 500 Index was down 4.59 at 1,973.63, and the NASDAQ Composite Index was down 7.44 at 4,424.70.

HEAVY RAINS FLOOD DECATUR PIKE

The torrential rains that moved across the Athens area Monday morning left Decatur Pike flooded at Holiday Drive near I-75. Six to 8 inches of water covered Decatur Pike. The low-lying areas of Holiday Drive had up to two feet of water. Athens Fire Chief Jim Dyer says one woman's car got stuck in the water and she had to be rescued by firefighters. Traffic on Decatur Pike and Holiday Drive had to be closed until the water receded.

What are others saying about Weston Wamp?

"...it's attitudes like Fleischmann's that have resulted in this gridlock and that are responsible for Congress's 13 percent approval rating...Wamp has convinced me of his conservative credentials. His ideology is a solidly conservative one, perhaps more in line with the Howard Baker and Ronald Reagan."
