TWRA ISSUES TIPS FOR COPING WITH BEARS

The Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency says that late spring is the time of the year when bears will travel great distances to obtain food. If you encounter a bear, you should look large, make a lot of noise and back away slowly. Never approach or follow a bear to take photos. Remove bird feeders, pet food and ripe fruits or garden vegetables from your yard. Store trash in bear proof containers. For more info go to: bearwise.org

The Walls Are Going Up!

If you are like us, you may be keeping a close eye on the progress being made on the construction of the new schools on the City Park School property. We've watched earth being moved, foundations being poured, and now we can see walls going up. Our staff photographer took this photo Sunday afternoon that shows the progress being made to date.

MONDAY'S MARKET REPORT: Equities finished mixed on Monday, with the S&P 500 and NASDAQ finishing modestly higher, while the Dow shed 86 points. It was a rather quiet day in the headlines, but the release of the New York Fed survey on inflation showed that consumers' expectations for inflation over the next year rose to the highest level since the survey began, stoking worries over an inflation-induced shift in Fed policy. The technology sector led the way, while cyclicals such as financials and materials trailed. Treasury yields moved higher on the inflation survey, with both the stock and bond markets looking ahead to the Fed meeting later this week. At the closing bell: DJIA 34,393.75 (-85.85); S&P 500 4,255.15 (+7.71); NASDAQ 14,174.14 (+104.72).
