Large Fire Destroys Former Credit Union Building at Bowater Plant in Calhoun

A major fire destroyed a 25,000-square-foot building at the Bowater Plant in Calhoun on Monday night. The fire broke out in the old credit union building, which was being used as a storage facility.

According to Mutual Aid Chief Billy Roach, the first unit arrived at 10:45 p.m. to find heavy smoke and visible flames. Calhoun Fire Department immediately requested a full Tri-State Mutual Aid response, bringing in multiple agencies from across the region. Over 3,000 feet of hose were used to reach hydrants and supply water to the scene.

Fire crews from more than a dozen departments worked through the night until 8:30 a.m. Thursday. No injuries were reported, but the building was declared a total loss. Calhoun Fire Department will determine whether an investigation is necessary.

Community News You Can Use

- Starting in the 2025-26 school year, a new Tennessee law will restrict student use of cell phones and electronic devices during class. Exceptions will be made for emergencies and health needs. Schools will set their own procedures for managing devices.
- The community is invited to Celebrate Juneteenth on Saturday, June 21, with two events in Athens.

From 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., the McMinn County NAACP will host an event at Cook Park (414 Cook Drive), featuring educational displays, poetry, book giveaways, and a special presentation on the park's history.

Immediately following, from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m., the Valor Guild will continue the celebration at Market Park Pavilion (106 S. Jackson St.) with live music, poetry, games, dancing contests, food, and vendor booths.

Both free events honor Juneteenth—the day in 1865 when enslaved people in Texas learned of their freedom—and aim to celebrate African American history, culture, and community.

Submerged Vehicle Recovered from Blythe's Ferry Boat Ramp

On Tuesday, June 17, the Rhea County Sheriff's Office, with assistance from the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office, recovered a vehicle submerged near the Blythe's Ferry Boat Ramp. The recovery followed multiple reports and concerns from the public about the visible vehicle.

The car had been underwater since a crash in the winter of 2018. The driver, who was the only person involved, was uninjured. At the time, recovery efforts were halted due to environmental and technical difficulties. Prompted by ongoing public concern, Rhea County authorities coordinated with Hamilton County's Underwater Recovery Team to remove the vehicle. Officials confirmed there was no foul play involved and the case remains closed.

The vehicle has been successfully removed and no longer poses any environmental or safety risk. Authorities thanked the public for their vigilance and praised the cooperation between agencies in completing the operation.

Supreme Court Upholds Tennessee Ban on Gender-Affirming Care for Minors

On June 18, the U.S. Supreme Court upheld a Tennessee law banning gender-affirming care for minors in a 6-3 decision. The ruling in United States v. Skrmetti allows the state to enforce its 2023 law prohibiting puberty blockers, hormone therapy, and surgeries for individuals under 18. The decision also clears the way for similar laws in 24 other states to take effect. The court found the law does not violate the Constitution's 14th Amendment and declined to weigh in on the medical debate, stating that such policy decisions are best left to elected officials.

The decision drew mixed reactions. Supporters called it a victory for parental and state rights, while LGBTQ+ advocates warned it will negatively impact transgender youth. The ruling is expected to further divide state policies on transgender health-care and may influence future legal battles over transgender rights in areas like sports, education, and public accommodations. Source: CBS News, The Guardian, BBC
